Thief Apologizes For $2,500 Heist

LITTLETON, Colo. UPI—A young crew cut robber with a nervous smile and a small brown bag snatched $2,500 from the Valley National Bank Thursday and later telephoned to say he was sorry.

The apologetic telephone call came only minutes after he fled on foot. Officials said he wasn't sorry enough to give up the money, though.

"He said he needed the money desperately and had given a lot of thought to it before he came in here," bank Vice President John Miller said. "He apologized and thanked the girl teller for being nice to him."

The unidentified gunman also talked to an FBI agent who was in the bank. The agent unsuccessfully attempted to talk him into giving up.

Escapes Injury In Plane Mishap

BROOKSTON, Ind. UPI—A Purdue University student who was practicing forced landings over an area near here ended up in a farm field when he misjudged his altitude.

Terry Pehan, 22, Greencastle, a student in Purdue's department of aviation, was making an authorized solo flight at the time. The plane struck a gravel road and slid 100 feet into the field. Pehan escaped injury, but the plane was slightly damaged.

Marines Stage Two Offensives

SAIGON UPI—Thousands of U.S. Marines in a second invasion of the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) on the North-South Vietnam border conquered a Communist hilltop fortress and chased its mauled survivors today.

A second Leatherneck drive just below the buffer zone pushed into the guerilla-infested jungle mountains near the Laotian border.

The separate Marine drives in the narrow border area aimed at smashing units of five North Vietnamese divisions in the area.

A Marine multi-battalion force launched their attack into the DMZ Thursday and fought a vicious six-hour battle before routing Communist defenders and taking Hill 117, a North Vietnamese fortress from which the Communists fired mortars and rockets at the American border outposts.

The drive in South Vietnam's northwest corner swept near the spot where one of the war's bloodiest battles was fought two weeks ago—Hill 881.

Before the new DMZ invasion, the Marines repulsed two ground attacks on Con Thien by North Vietnamese forces earlier Thursday. Then a multi-battalion Marine force charged into the DMZ and up another bunker-infested hill 117.

The Leathernecks counted 84 dead Communists in the battle and another 119 wounded. Hill 117 is located just five miles northwest of Con Thien, an American artillery base and U.S. Army Special Forces camp.

The Marines plunged back into the DMZ only hours after returning to their camp from Operation Hickory Nut, the first American operation in the DMZ. Hickory Nut was a week-long sweep which cut into elements of two North Vietnamese regiments and left more than 600 Communists dead.

There was no public expectation in Cairo of a diplomatic solution to the crisis. It appeared that United Nations Secretary General Thant had not budged Nasser on the critical issue of Egypt's blockade of Israeli's southern sea route.

Food Crisis

WASHINGTON UPI—Growing U. S. food aid will be needed for a world war against hunger even if other wealthy nations step up their assistance, according to a United Nations expert.

B. R. Sen, director general of the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization, told a news conference Thursday that even with growing productivity in food-short countries the gap between their production and their needs is expected to continue to widen.

For this reason, he said, "we certainly will need a substantial increase" in American food aid despite any step-up in contributions from other countries.

The eighty-ninth annual Baccalaureate Service for the 1967 graduates of Greencastle High School will be held Sunday at 3 p.m. in the gymnasium, corner of Walnut Street and College Avenue.

Mrs. Jean Decker Is Hostess To Club

The Marionettes Homemaker Extension Club met May 23 at the home of Mrs. Jean Decker, with nine members answering roll call.

The meeting was opened with the Club Creed and the song of the month, "Shenandoah."

Mrs. Jean Spencer gave an interesting report on "snakes and first aid for snake bites." She reported there are 7,000 snake bites reported each year. Snakes venture out at night mostly for their food so a person should be extra careful where they step.

"How to read a recipe right" was the topic for Mrs. Betty Phillips. She said if a recipe calls for minced onion or chopped onion, the minced onion would give you more flavor.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, and the door prize was won by Mrs. Jean Spencer.

Meeting Held By Historical Society

The Putnam County Historical Society met at Torr's Restaurant on Wednesday evening for a dinner meeting. Mrs. William Boatright welcomed two guests: Mrs. Effie Stigleman and Mrs. Mayme Gruenholz.

The members voted to join the State Historical Society as a Society. The Louis Publishing Company of Knightstown has a book for sale containing the biographical and historical records of 1887 of Putnam County for sale for anyone interested. Mrs. Boatright named a nominating committee.

Dr. George Manhart introduced Dr. James F. Findlay of the DePauw History Department who gave a most interesting talk on the life of Dwight L. Moody, the great evangelist. The Greencastle Times and The Banner said that Moody came here on March 5, 1885 and spoke in Meharry Hall as he was changing from the Pennsylvania train to the Monon to go to New Albany to visit Washington C. DePauw. Classes were dismissed, and the meeting started at 9:00 a.m. with state secretary of Y.M.C.A., L. W. Munhall, opening the service who spoke on "How To Promote Religious Life In The College." There was singing and another man spoke. Moody spoke for fifteen minutes on "How To Use The Bible." Then there was more singing and Moody preached for forty-five minutes on "Our Need of Christ." This meeting lasted for three hours.

Moody was born in 1832 in East Northfield, Mass. He went to Boston as a boot and shoe salesman, but in 1854 reorganized the first Y.M.C.A. He got the idea from London where he was in 1852. Moody went to Chicago and joined the Chicago Y.M.C.A. in 1856 and was elected as a paid secretary. This organization became very strong and Moody was responsible for erecting the first building. He left Chicago in 1873 and returned to England. Through the Y there, he started to be an evangelist. He took with him Ira D. Sankey, whom he had met in 1870 at the National Y.M.C.A. convention in Indianapolis. Both became well known as the Moody and Sankey team who traveled all over the U. S. and carried on many great evangelistic meetings as well as organizing Sunday Schools and raising much money for religious work.

The only other U. S. naval forces anywhere near the crisis area are two destroyers and a converted seaplane tender. They make up the Navy's tiny Middle East force which cruises the Red Sea, Persian Gulf and Indian Ocean.

As for U.S. ground forces that might be brought in case of a major Middle East blowup, the United States has some 200,000 men in Europe committed to NATO. But experts believe a brigade or more upwards of 3,000 men and possibly some armored units could be detached the Middle East with NATO approval.

At home, the United States has at least 25,000 airborne troops that could be used in an emergency.

There also is the 1st and 2nd Armored Divisions in this country and the 5th Mechanized Infantry Division, a total of some 45,000 additional men.

The 2nd Marine Division also is available, although it is already providing men for duty in Vietnam on a rotation basis.

King Warns Of More Violence

CHICAGO UPI—Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., warns that conditions in the slums of American cities are so bad that rioting may occur this summer although non-violence is the "most potent weapon" the Negro can employ to gain equality.

Decrying outbreaks of ghetto violence as "black suicide," King said Thursday that Chicago, Cleveland, Los Angeles and New York may nevertheless be in for a "long hot summer" after a "long cold winter" during which . . . the plight of the Negro has worsened.

King said he planned "to stir up trouble this summer" here and in other cities. But he said this agitation would be in the form of attempts to bring about "non-violent solutions" to the problems of segregated cities.

The civil rights leader addressed the headline Club, the Chicago professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, National Journalism society.

King was brief but firm on the subject of his controversial participation in anti-war activities. He vowed to continue his

U.S. Can Supply Mideast Forces

By Donald H. May
WASHINGTON UPI—The United States could supply considerable forces for any short-run action in the Middle East and still press the war in Vietnam without calling up the reserves.

But prolonged ground involvement in the area, coupled with a continued buildup in Vietnam, would require mobilization of at least some reserves.

At present, elements of the U. S. Navy's 50-warship, 25,000-man 6th fleet are reported in a state of readiness in the eastern Mediterranean, although staying well clear of the immediate crisis area.

In addition, a landing force of 1,600 combat-ready Marines assigned to the 6th Fleet ended shore liberty at Naples, Italy, early Thursday and headed out to sea aboard six ships of an amphibious force. Their destination was not disclosed.

At the same time, the guided missile cruiser, Little Rock, flagship of the fleet left the 6th's home port of Gaeta, Italy, and put to sea in the company of a destroyer.

The fleet has two regularly assigned carriers—America, last reported in the western Mediterranean, and Saratoga, reported in the eastern portion. These two have been reinforced temporarily by a third carrier, Intrepid, also in the eastern Mediterranean.

Another company suggested that the frying fat should always be brought back up to the correct temperature before putting in another batch of food. I thought that was an excellent idea. Remember, we are putting in a bunch of cold food to fry, and as it cooks, heat is being transferred from the oil to the food.

Here's some more hints (from another manufacturer) that will help prevent smoke in your kitchen:

Any floating food particles that are left in your hot oil should be fished out before you put in the next batch. After all, why keep cooking these till they burn?

Here's something else I learned of which I think is great. If you are frying three or four batches of potatoes or shrimp, after each batch is drained you can keep them hot by setting them on a baking pan in a preheated oven which is kept at 300 degrees. It works! Most of us make the mistake of turning our oven on 375. That's too high. It keeps food cooking.

Thus I have my medicine with me at all times, and a beautiful piece of jewelry in the bargain.

Hints from Heloise

by HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:

Why is it when I deep fry potatoes or shrimp, that the second batch is not nearly as good as the first? And how can I keep the first batch warm while the second batch is cooking?

Quandary

Dear Quandary:

Don't be in one any more! I talked with some manufacturers of cooking oil and here are the answers they gave:

Perhaps you are trying to fry too much at one time. Or maybe you're using too small a pan and too little fat. Either reduce the amount of food you are frying in your dipping basket, or use a bigger pot and add more stuff to fry it in.

One company suggested that you shake your wire basket while the food is in the hot fat, right after the bubbles die down. In all the kitchens I have seen (including famous restaurants and hotels) they always do this. This not only shakes the pieces of food apart, but allows more uniform cooking.

Another company suggested that the frying fat should always be brought back up to the correct temperature before putting in another batch of food. I thought that was an excellent idea. Remember, we are putting in a bunch of cold food to fry, and as it cooks, heat is being transferred from the oil to the food.

Here's some more hints (from another manufacturer) that will help prevent smoke in your kitchen:

Dear Heloise:

I was looking for something to carry a cake to a dinner party when I discovered something unusual.

I turned a large cereal box on its side and slipped my fresh oblong cake into it. Then I put a plastic bag over the whole thing.

When I arrived at the dinner, my cake looked as nice as when freshly frosted.

Dear Heloise:

After breaking my ignition key off in my locked car door I learned a lesson.

I wrote that original key number on my driver's license so if I break or lose it again I can easily have one made.

Dear Heloise:

A little hint to expectant mothers:

During the last month of waiting, prepare a double portion of those favorite family recipes such as meat loaves, sauces, etc. Use one portion that night and freeze the other.

In the hectic weeks following the arrival of the little angel, dinner can be readied in no time.

Ancil Delp of the State Veterinary Department, stopped in the office this week to give the instructions for the health requirements for the livestock that will be shown in the fair. All requirements will be the same as last year except for the cattle Brucellosis test. Animals under 24 months of age instead of 30 months of age which have been officially vaccinated and which are accompanied by a certificate of vaccination approved by the Chief Livestock Sanitary Official of the state of origin. The change of age is the only change.

Mr. Delp also stated that the parent's signature should be on the health papers when it is sent to State Veterinary Office. I know you are not going to remember all of this, but this is to introduce the subject.

There are several items in these health laws, so I would suggest that if you have beef, dairy, hogs or sheep, and are not acquainted with these rules, I would suggest you notify your veterinary, County Extension Office, or last years' fair book.

This would be a good time to examine small grain fields, grass pastures, ditch banks, etc. for possible armyworm infestations.

In small grain look in areas of the field where there is rank growth and where plants are lodged. Shake plants and look on the ground for small (about 1/2 inch long) grayish-green striped worms. Armyworms may also be found curled up on the ground beneath plant debris or under clods or other cover during the daytime. They do most of their feeding at night. If armyworms are found, then examine other areas in the field to determine need for control. If after examining several areas in the field, an average of six or more armyworms per linear foot of drill row are found, and if the worms are over one-half inch in length, then insecticides are required for control. Apply toxaphene as listed in Publication E-57. Toxaphene will probably be the only recommended material that can be used at this time since carbaryl (Sevin) cannot be used on small grains after the heads appear. For grass pastures or forages use carbaryl.

Spraying pastures and also ditch banks and other grassy areas having infestations, will kill the worms and prevent them from migrating into corn or non-infested small grains.

Corn fields should be examined for possible infestations of cutworms and flea beetles. Weather conditions have been ideal for the development of cutworms in fields having poor drainage, and particularly in fields where there has been a problem in past years. Detect the infestation while the worms are still small, since controls are more effective at that time. Flea beetles usually start around the edges of fields.

If you want more information, ask for publication E-48 at the County Extension Office.

Indiana Records 5 Traffic Deaths

Five deaths Thursday, two of them in a car-motorcycle crash at New Albany, and another today raised Indiana's 1967 traffic fatality toll to at least 470 compared with 561 a year ago.

Kenneth C. Watkins, 16, and Edward Eastridge, 18, New Albany, were killed Thursday when their motorcycle struck a car which made a left turn into their path on U. S. 31W in New Albany. James A. Lenfert Jr., 18, New Albany, driver of the car, was injured.

DePauw To Have Two New Songs

Two septuagenarians, one of them a Hoosier, have written a new college "fight" song for DePauw University.

Miss Vivien Bard of Terre Haute and Horace Westmen of Scarsdale, N.Y., will head their "Old Gold Day Victory March" premiered Saturday during alumni activities.

The fight song and another musical work they have teamed up on, "DePauw Processional Commencement March," are two the duo and their classmates of 1917 are giving to their alma mater. All of them will be celebrating the 50th anniversary of their graduation.

The official unveiling of the two works will come immediately after an alumni chapel Saturday morning. The two pieces, with their words sung by 1935 DePauw alumnus William A. Gephart, New York City, a faculty member at Union Theological Seminary, will be played throughout the campus on a public address system.

A bit more formal introduction is planned for the "Processional." It is to be sung for the first time by the university choir at a luncheon Saturday in Bowman Gymnasium. The choir, in the inaugural live presentation, will be directed by Professor Joseph Flummerfelt.

The "fight" song will have to wait awhile, however, for its unfurling. It will be scored for band this summer and played at DePauw's Old Gold Day (homecoming) Oct. 14 when the Tigers meet Ball State.

Miss Bard, who composed the music for the new pieces, is a graduate of Wiley High School in Terre Haute where she has taught piano. Westmen wrote the lyrics. He is a retired vice president of the First National City Bank of New York City.

Miss Bard already is the author of DePauw's most revered song, "A Toast to Old DePauw." She penned it in 1916 when she was a senior at the university. It was described by the then music school head Robert McCutchan "as the best song ever used at DePauw."

The words for the fight song, to be used for DePauw's biggest fall football weekend, are as follows:

"The leaves are turning red and gold,
The dawn breaks bright and clear.

The heart awakes with joyous beat.

The Day of Days is here!
Old Gold Day's here—we love it all.

A blend of friendships young and old.

The mums, balloons, the game, the Queen.

The stands are filled, all is supreme.

Men of DePauw, like those of yore.

Will take the field to score, score, score.

DePauw will go for win today. So play, band, play.

Just hear that band of old DePauw.

Sing loud her praise — hurrah, hurrah

As down the field we march along

Our hearts join hands in victory's song.

Once more we march, we fight, we go

To challenge every foe.

'Til victory's won, we'll beat the Drums and score, score, score. DePauw again will win the day, so play, play, play.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

By B. Jay Becker

(Top Record-Holder in Masters' Individual Championship Play)

BIDDING QUIZ

You are South, both sides vulnerable. The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1♠	Pass	1♠	Pass
2♣	Pass	3♠	Pass
3NT	Pass	?	?

What would you bid now with each of the following four hands?

1. ♠AKQJ94 ♥Q82 ♦J3 ♣85
2. ♠KQ9863 ♥8 ♦KJ ♣Q952
3. ♠KQJ9643 ♥Q5 ♦82 ♣A83
4. ♠KJ7542 ♥K ♣AJ5 ♠A83

1. Pass. There is no good reason to think that four spades is a safer contract than three notrump. On the contrary, it is likely that North will have at least one stopper in any suit led and will then be able to cash nine or more tricks. A four spade contract might result in the loss of four tricks, particularly since North has twice shown minimum values after opening the bidding. The hand can stand four losers in notrump, but not in spades.

2. Four clubs. This hand does not lend itself to notrump play and is obviously better designed for a suit contract. The four club bid (forcing) permits North to go on to five clubs or show related support for spades. Minor suit game contracts are comparatively rare, since most hands with a potential of eleven tricks will usually produce nine tricks at notrump, but in this case the danger of attempting a notrump contract is much too great.

3. Four spades. The chances of making four spades are excellent, since four tricks are very unlikely to be lost, while three notrump might turn out to be a shaky affair. The danger in notrump is that the opponents, having the advantage of the opening lead, might be able to establish their long suit before dummy's spades can be established.

It is possible that both four spades and three notrump can be made, depending upon partner's hand, but, in the long run, four spades is likely to prove safer and easier to negotiate than three notrump.

4. Four clubs. It is practically certain that partner can make three notrump in this case, but a pass is not recommended because there is still a reasonable possibility of making a slam. Thus, six clubs would be an excellent contract if partner had: ♠6 ♥AJ3 ♣K102 ♦KQ10852.

Investigating the slam possibility by bidding four clubs does not seriously jeopardize making a game. North is likely to respond four spades, five clubs or six clubs. The intention is to pass whichever of these bids North chooses to make, since we have done practically everything possible to arrive at the best contract. If North cooperates with our slam try by bidding four hearts, we jump to six clubs.

Lottery Winners Must Pay Back

NEW YORK UPI — The city Welfare Department announced Thursday that any of New York's 656,000 welfare clients win prizes in the new state lottery will have to pay back what he has received in public assistance after paying federal, state and city taxes.

A spokesman said the Welfare Department is legally a priority creditor and is entitled to full repayment of what a welfare client has received over the years, with the exception of one year of welfare payments.

Winners of sizeable prizes will be removed from the welfare rolls for the calendar year and must re-prove eligibility to get back on.

The state lottery will start in June and will pay out $300,000 in prizes for every $1 million collected. Tickets are $1. Each year a "superprize" of $250,000 will be given.

13 Boats Trapped

TOKYO UPI — A Soviet icebreaker Thursday responded to an urgent call by the Japanese Maritime Agency and will try to rescue 13 Japanese herring boats trapped in a drifting ice pack west of Kamchatka Peninsula. The Soviet vessel was 300 miles west of the ice pack when the call was received and its arrival time at the scene was not known.

Faces Possible Death Sentence

ALEXANDER, Va. UPI — A federal jury has found Air Force Staff Sgt. Herbert W. Boeckenhaupt guilty of passing U. S. defense secrets to the Soviet Union. He could be sentenced to death.

The jury deliberated about seven hours before convicting the 24-year-old, German-born airman on two counts Thursday.

U. S. District Judge Oren R. Lewis delayed sentencing until a pre-sentence report is completed. A defense attorney said the case would be appealed.

On one count of conspiring to obtain secrets, Boeckenhaupt could receive up to 10 years in prison. The other, accusing him of passing secrets to the Soviets, carries a possible death penalty.

The indictment charged Boeckenhaupt with passing defense secrets to Alexei R. Malinin, an employee of the Soviet Embassy, while the airman was assigned to Air Force headquarters in the Pentagon in 1965-66.

Malinin was named as a co-conspirator in the indictment, but was not tried because of his diplomatic immunity. He was ordered out of the country by the State Department last year.

Defense attorney Plato Cacheris said he would appeal the conviction on grounds that Judge Lewis erred in allowing as evidence a "statement of admission" Boeckenhaupt made to the FBI.

In the statement, Boeckenhaupt told how he met Malinin and agreed to cooperate with the Russian because he feared for the life of his father, then still living in Germany.

According to the statement, Boeckenhaupt said Malinin indicated to him that his father's life might be endangered if he refused to cooperate with the Russian.

This alleged threat was the basis of the defense's case. Cacheris also argued that the government had not proved that Boeckenhaupt ever actually passed any secrets to Malinin.

The government based its case mostly on the "admission" and evidence presented by FBI agents who testified they followed Boeckenhaupt and Malinin and observed their meetings in various points in the Washington suburbs of northern Virginia.

Boeckenhaupt, a naturalized American, was accused of handing over to Malinin code books and other communications data used at the Pentagon.

Races Mix

JOHANNESBURG UPI — Student at multi-racial Witwatersrand University voted Thursday to allow nonwhites to attend dances and other campus social events.

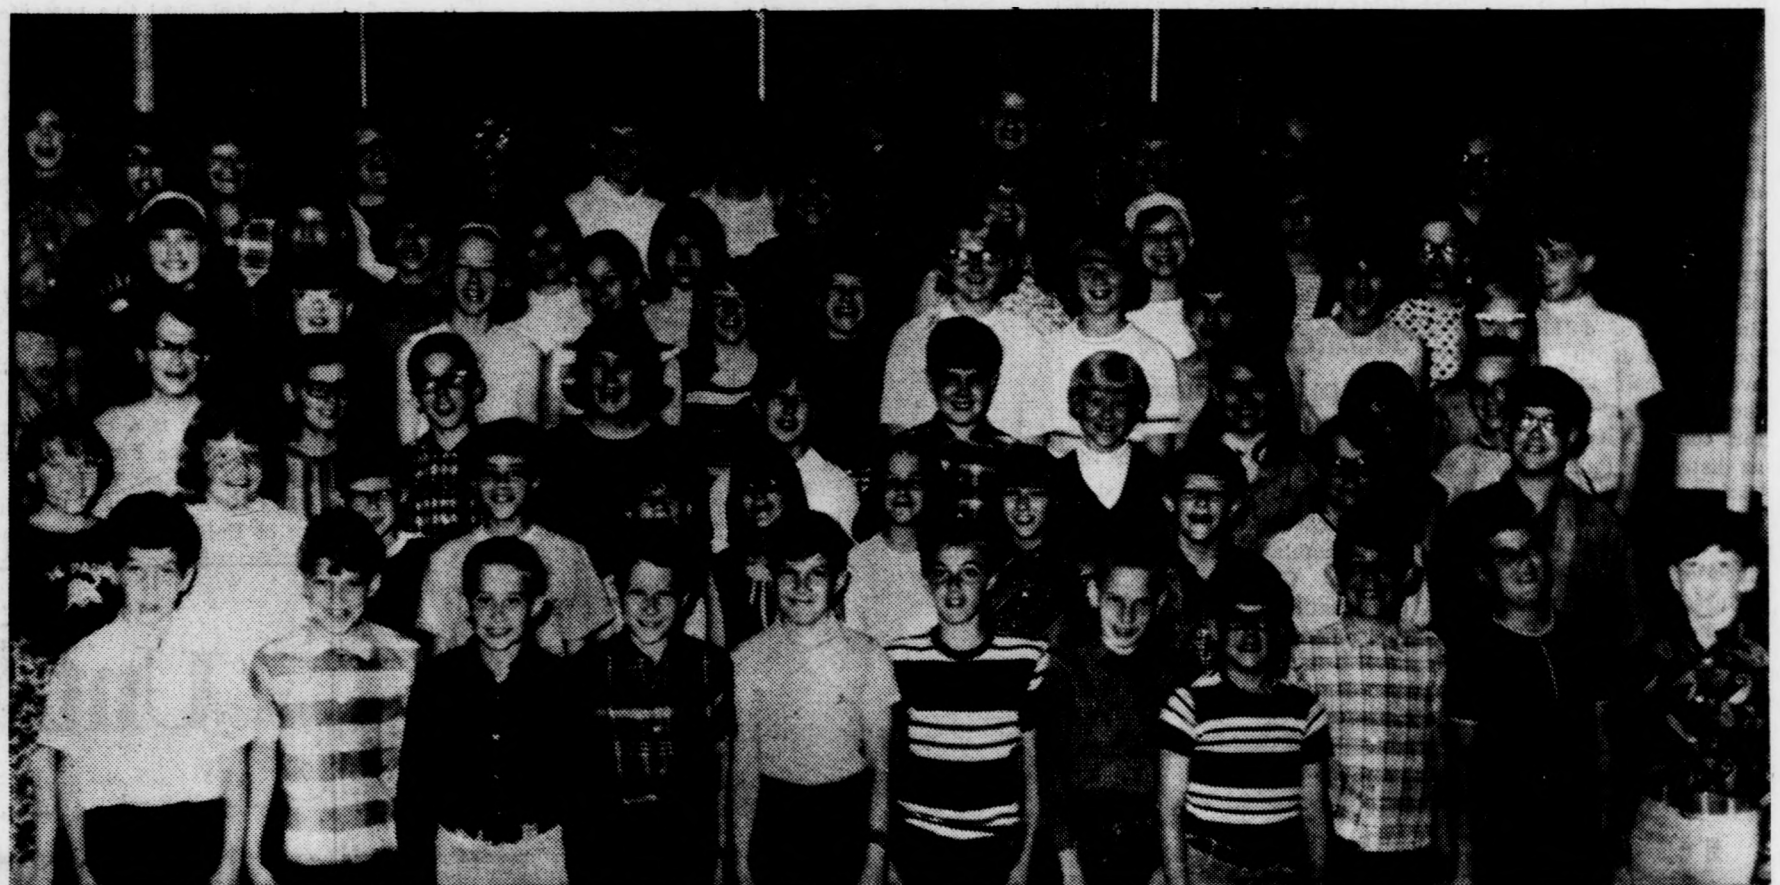

The university student council confirmed the decision. At a meeting of 1,500 students, only 170 opposed the resolution inviting the few dozen nonwhites on campus to join whites in social functions.

The resolution said the school had a responsibility to guarantee no discrimination in academic life.

West Virginia was created when its residents refused to secede from the union and severed connection with the state of Virginia during the Civil War era.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

AN IMPATIENT lady in Purchase, New York, was flagged for speeding by a motorcycle cop recently, who demanded to see her license and registration card. Noting that she was the wife of a well-known and benevolent big-shot of the town, he let her off with a warning, and handed back her cards along with a batch of trading stamps. "No, ma'am," he explained with some embarrassment. "We're not giving out stamps to traffic offenders this season. These were stuck to your license."

Jack Paar recalls, as one of the low points in his career, the evening the Duchess of Windsor sought him out at a soiree to demand, "Aren't you that amusing man I see on television when I stay up late enough?" Paar, gratified, admitted he had been identified correctly. "Then you're the one who can tell me," nodded the Duchess. "Is the Roller Derby fixed?"

Barbra Streisand cites the case of a poor fellow who got so tired of doing the wash, cleaning the house, and cooking his own dinner every night that he took a deep breath and popped the question. He asked his wife for a divorce.

Speed Belongs At '500' Race, Not On Highways

"Memorial Day weekend the focus is on speed," said Floyd A. Kline, Sr., Director of the Indiana Office of Traffic Safety, "but that speed belongs at the Indianapolis 500 and not on the Hoosier streets and highways."

He reminded Indiana motorists that 19 persons were killed in accidents over the 1966 Memorial Day weekend and estimated that approximately 19 persons may die this year. The figure, he pointed out, is based on past performance and could be lowered if all holiday drivers would take the extra time and effort involved in making certain they and the other users of the highways arrive at their destinations alive and in one piece.

Mr. Kline explained that the excitement of the race and the fact that speed is a main point of interest can generate increased speeds on the highway. "The man listening to someone hitting over 200 mph. on the straightaway may subconsciously push his own accelerator just a little harder. This may be the few miles per hour that will erase his margin of safety."

With Memorial Day falling on Tuesday this year, many persons will have a four-day weekend. The longer-than-average holiday will mean more motorists, traveling more miles and spending more hours in their cars. Persons who don't get a four-day holiday may attempt the poor practice of cramming four days of driving into two or three. "These factors can produce a highway tragedy," warned Mr. Kline. "Each and everyone of us must do his part by driving safely and sanely. Leave the higher speeds and the resultant higher risks to the professionals who get paid to take them."

Speck To Learn Ultimate Fate

CHICAGO UPI — Richard Speck, the lanky vagabond convicted of murdering eight nurses, finds out today whether he has a date with a doctor, prison or death.

Today was the day set by Judge Herbert D. Paschen for sentencing of the 25-year-old after a jury found him guilty on eight counts of murder and recommended death in the electric chair.

In a "13th hour" appeal, the defense argued for a 30-day delay in sentencing so doctors could determine if Speck suffers from uncontrollable epileptic rages. Paschen said he would rule on that motion before passing sentence, which could be an interminable prison sentence or death in the electric chair.

To strengthen their arguments in mitigation and aggravation, defense attorneys Gerald W. Getty and James J. Doherty said they had subpoenaed four doctors who were on the panel that originally examined Speck and found him mentally fit to stand trial.

Last month in Peoria, a jury found Speck guilty of choking and stabbing to death eight nurses in their dormitory apartment on Chicago's South Side last July 14, and said, "we fix the sentence at death."

"We say it is absolutely necessary that we have these tests performed," Doherty argued Thursday. "We found this out at the 13th hour but we have to do this."

The defense, which did not mention insanity in the two-month trial, argued that there is evidence that Speck is suffering from "a chronic brain syndrome."

Art Work Stolen

ERLANGEN, Germany UPI — Nine works of art including a lithograph by Pablo Picasso have been stolen from a public exhibition, police said Thursday.

The masterpieces were valued at about $25,000 and included Picasso's "The Painter." They were stolen Tuesday but not reported by police until Thursday to give authorities a chance to investigate without publicity.

Safety Session Is Scheduled

WASHINGTON UPI — The government appeared ready today to trade in controversy for compromise in its fight with the auto industry over safety padding for car interiors.

Federal Highway Administrator Lowell K. Bridwell was scheduled to meet with industry representatives to find a way they can work out "their difficulties" over the impact standard—considered by some experts to be the most important of all the government safety rules.

Critic Ralph Nader put his view this way: "I don't think there will be much left of the standard when they finish." According to Nader, the industry apparently is going "to get its way on virtually every point of contention."

The industry, however, argues that it can meet most of the requirements for redesigning the interior, but it claims that the government's requirements for leg and knee protection would result in a major change in car interiors that could not be accomplished before the Jan. 1 deadline.

Under the standard, the industry would have to construct new and safer instrument panels, seat backs, sun visors and arm rests, and recess protruding knobs and handles.

The proposed standard, however, already is weaker than the one initially outlined by the government late last year. It included requirements for protecting a child not restrained by a seat belt. The government dropped this from its final list of standards, but said it would later car models.

Soviets Silent on Peace Effort

MOSCOW UPI—British Foreign Secretary George Brown today said he had failed to persuade the Kremlin to support a four-power peace offensive in the Middle East at this time.

But he said there was still no Soviet decision on the proposal by French President Charles de Gaulle that Russia join with France, the United States and Britain in quenching the conflict.

Brown said the proposal had only arrived at the Kremlin Thursday night "and it is too early to expect a public statement.

"There has been no Soviet decision yet," he added. Brown was flying back to London after three days of crisis talks, including more than 10 hours of meetings with Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Both Britain and the United States have endorsed the French proposal.

But well-informed sources said the Russians told Brown they are reluctant, for political reasons, to be seen joining the "imperialist powers" in a joint peace move.

Brown denied reports that the Soviets were demanding U.S. concessions in Vietnam as the price for Soviet participation in a Mideast settlement.

"Vietnam is an important factor," he said, "only in that the Soviets do not want to see a second war breaking out."

The Kremlin promised in a statement "resolute" support to the Arab cause. Brown said of this: "I can't usefully add anything to their own statement on the Mideast."

He characterized the pledge as "a firm endorsement of the Nasserite line" in the United Arab Republic.

"By contrast," he said, "we are concentrating on getting the crisis stopped and achieving a long-term settlement."

Brown said he impressed on the Soviets the "immense importance" that Britain, as a maritime nation, gives to the Egyptian blockade of the Akaba Gulf.

Although Brown's talks at the Kremlin also covered Vietnam, troop reductions in Europe and a treaty barring the spread of nuclear weapons, informed sources said he spent most of his time in pressing the four-power peace plan.

Kentucky GOP Hopes To Unite

LOUISVILLE, Ky. UPI — Kentucky Republicans began to put together a united front today after a bitter gubernatorial primary in which conservative Louis B. Nunn eked out a slim 4,000 majority out of nearly 180,000 votes cast.

Judge Marlow W. Cook, defeated in his attempt to be the Bluegrass State's first Roman Catholic chief executive, offered to manage Nunn's fall campaign.

"I want it clearly understood that I pledge my support in behalf of the Republican ticket right here and now," Cook said while conceding the race to Nunn, who also was the 1963 GOP nominee.

Democrats were less than cordial about the landslide victory of former Highway Commissioner Henry Ward over former baseball Commissioner A. B. Happy Chandler.

"It remains to be seen whether the total electorate will approve the policies of the present administration," Chandler said. Ward was backed by Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, who cannot succeed himself.

Chandler seeking a comeback after a 69,000-vote defeat to Breathitt in 1963, was defeated by more than 92,000 votes.

Man Acquitted In Murder Trial

VALPARAISO, UPI — An all-white jury returned a verdict of innocent in the first-degree murder trial of Harvey Gene Droke, 32, Chesterton, charged with shooting a Gary Negro in a tavern.

The jurors deliberated 10 hours before rejecting the state's plea to convict Droke and accepting defense attorney Max Cohen's contention Droke killed Martin Ivey, 25, last March 9 at the Tremont Inn north of Chesterton in a case of justifiable homicide because Ivey "made obscene and vile remarks" to Droke's wife.

State's witnesses testified they heard Droke say "get that colored boy out of here and send him back to Gary" and that Droke spent two hours searching for a gun before the returned to the tavern, found Ivey still there and shot him.

Cohen told the jury in his closing arguments that "Ivy brought about his own death by his own vile and obscene mouth."

Picasso Abstract

CHICAGO UPI — About 400 persons attended ground breaking ceremonies Thursday for a 50-foot sculpture donated to the city by Pablo Picasso.

The massive, abstract sculpture, which raised a controversy as to what it portrayed, will stand in front of the Chicago Civic Center. It is designed from tons of steel which intentionally will become rusty.

Turbine May Steal The Thunder at '500' Race

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Parnelli Jones and his nearly silent turbine engine may steal the thunder from the Fords and Offenhausers in Tuesday's 500-mile Speedway auto race, but Fred Gerhardt predicted today the turbo-charged Offy is the coming thing at the Speedway.

Gerhardt, of Fresno, Calif., has been building race cars since the 1930s. He built 11 for this year's Speedway spectacle, and seven of them will be in the lineup on Memorial Day. He owns three of them himself.

His latest models are not radically different from last year, but he is already working on improvements.

"I'm thinking of a larger wheel base, a wider track for stability in the corners," he said.

The turbine? It might be the thing of the future, Gerhardt said, but regardless how Jones fares on Memorial Day, he predicted the rules will be changed to either eliminate such engines or to make them competitive by reducing their power.

"What I'd really like to see is reducing the fuel capacity and three mandatory pit stops," said Gerhardt. "I think the fuel tanks should be cut down from 75 to no more than 55 gallons so these cars would handle better yet."

Drivers now must make two pit stops and most of them take on fuel, although few change tires.

The Offys—there are seven in the field—are either of the super-charged or turbocharged variety. The supercharged engines use a portion of the engine's power to force air back into the carburetors. The turbos generate even more power, utilizing escaping energy of the exhaust gases to drive air back into the engine.

"I think the turbo-charger is the coming thing—from the standpoint of economy and durability," said Gerhardt. Most experts agree the turbo-chargers are faster than the Fords in the two straightaways because they develop more power.

Gerhardt owns three of his seven cars in the field—those driven by Mel Kenyon, Art Pollard and Bob Veith. The latter qualified for his 10th race after only 21 laps of practice.

Gerhardt's only real surprise at the Speedway this spring was the overall speed.

"I thought 161 miles per hour would be good enough to make it," he said, shaking his head. The slowest qualified car averaged 162.543.

One of Gerhardt's cars almost made it into victory lane last year, but Gordon Johncock had the misfortune of being involved in the first-lap fiasco. While 11 cars were knocked out, Johncock had to spend two laps in the pits on the restart and finished fourth.

Miami to be Site Of Super Bowl

NEW YORK UPI — Pete Rozelle, commissioner of the National and American Football Leagues, announced today that Miami's Orange Bowl has been chosen as the site of the second Super Bowl on Jan. 14, 1968.

In the first Super Bowl meeting between the two leagues the Green Bay Packers of the NFL defeated the Kansas City Chiefs, 35-10, before more than 63,000 at the Los Angeles Coliseum, which can hold 98,000. The failure to attract a larger crowd is believed one reason for the switch in sites.

New Orleans' Sugar Bowl, the Cotton Bowl in Dallas, Houston's Astrodome and the L.A. Coliseum also were considered, Rozelle said.

The track, which has been closed since qualification trials ended Sunday, was opened to provide three hours of running time for the 33 qualified cars and two alternates. One of the alternates will move into the field only if one of the qualified cars is unable to start at race time next Tuesday.

Following the chassis and fuel tests, crews were given additional time for pit stop practice without the engines running.

Today's practice time was particularly important for the crews and drivers whose cars qualified last weekend. Those who qualified the first day of trials May 13 were able to get most of their testing done last week. However, even some of them planned to take advantage of today's final practice session.

After today's practice, the track was to be closed down again until the day of the race.

Establish Award For 34th Driver

INDIANAPOLIS UPI—Andy Granatelli, owner of the turbine-powered car which Parnelli Jones will drive in the Memorial Day 500-mile auto race, Thursday announced establishment of a memorial award for the driver of the 34th car in the "lineup."

Granatelli said he will make the award at Monday's traditional driver's meeting to Belgium's Lucien Bianchi, whose car was the last to be bumped on the final day of qualifications last Sunday.

The award is a memorial to the late Dale Mueller, a veteran racing photographer from St. Louis who was killed last year when a camera stand collapsed at Springfield, Ill.

The award includes a cash prize of $500 and a trophy.

HOLLYWOOD UPI — "A Christmas Memory" by Truman Capote and "Mark Twain Tonight" starring Hal Holbrook, have been cited for exceptional achievement in the past television season in the second annual "critics' consensus" poll.

In addition to the two programs, Holbrook was cited separately for his one-man performance, making a total of three "winners" — that is, nominations that received a two-thirds vote of the 15 participating television columnists. "A Christmas Memory," which was an "ABC Stage 67" production, and Holbrook each gathered 12 votes. "Mark Twain Tonight" as a program received 11 votes. It was a CBS-TV presentation.

The "critics' consensus" has no predetermined categories, and awards are not intended as "bests" for just this season, but as outstanding achievement in any year.

The poll was created last season in reaction, as "Variety" noted, "to revised Emmy (Award) procedures... that seemed to be discarding the idea of quality for quantity."

In the first "critics' consensus" poll, there were only four winners, with "Death of a Salesman" the sole program cited. The critics' poll includes columnists in New York, Los Angeles, Chicago, San Francisco, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, D.C., St. Louis, Detroit, Miami, Houston, Memphis, Seattle and San Diego. This writer is a member.

Those nominations that narrowly missed two-thirds acceptance in this season's balloting — getting nine votes each — were CBS-TV's "The Crucible" by Arthur Miller, and Geraldine Page for her performance in "A Christmas Memory."

Eight votes were cast for "ABC Stage 67" as a series and for the national educational television documentary "A Time For Burning."

Fred Friendly, one of last season's four winners, was cited twice more in the latest poll. He received seven votes for his part in conceiving the "public dividend" of non-commercial television that could derive from

A Local Teenager's View

By Janet Staub

With two ringmasters to run the show the Red and Blue Big-top made its appearance. Small children to senior citizens sat on the edge of their seats as the traditional show starting march get under way.

Three, very polished, girls' tumbling teams showed their various skills as they got into some very back bending (no pun intended!) positions. Not as beautiful but twice as handsome was the boys' tumbling team.

With the Memorial Day Weekend coming up the ambulance attendants in the show would make anyone want to drive a little safer. A few steps dances by the ballerina were right—that is right on the basketball court.

The show was highlighted by the many ferocious animals. The chorus line of bears appeared to be one of the favorites with the small fry who were present. The brainy horse made a timely appearance since it is final exam time. It was also proved once again that Tigers can conquer anything as the striped cat became ringmaster over the real impersonator.

The show was very successful and showed much hard work put in by the students and faculty of the Greencastle Junior High School.

BY THE WAY: The only criticism I have of the show is that the air conditioning sure wasn't working!!

WOLF BEATS ODDS?
VAASA, Finland UPI — It's no life being a wolf in Finland.

Recently 500 hunters equipped with rifles, walkietalkies and patrol cars scoured the countryside for one wolf sighted near this eastern Finnish city.

So far the wolf has eluded his pursuers.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
